Yizkor Book of Remembrance

ADONAI, what are human beings that You take account of them, mortals that You care for them?
Humans are as a breath, their days like a passing shadow
In the morning they flourish anew, in the evening they shrivel and die.
Teach us to count each day, that we may acquire a heart of wisdom.

So begins the Yizkor service: with a stark reminder of our mortality, and the exhortation to make our limited lives as meaningful as possible.

In addition to Yom Kippur, we also come to remember our loved ones during each of the major pilgrimage holidays — at the tail end of Sukkot on Shemini Atzeret, on the final day of Passover, and on the second day of Shavuot. Our thoughts and memories at each of these times of the year are colored by the meaning of each holiday.

After Sukkot — z'man simchateinu, the time of our joy — we may remember the celebrations we enjoyed together.

On Passover, as we recall the Exodus from Egypt, we may remember the ways we felt freedom together, or the bitterness we endured together.

On Shavuot, when we commemorate receiving the Torah at Mt. Sinai, we might remember the wisdom with which they gifted us.

Our memories ebb and flow each year, shaped by the rhythms of the Jewish calendar and the ups and downs of our lives.

On Yom Kippur, though, all our memories are wrapped up in the theme of teshuvah — of forgiveness and returning to our best selves. What do we want to forgive our loved ones for? What do we hope they could forgive us for? How can we live up to their hopes, dreams, and expectations for us in the year ahead?

The following poem by Wislawa Szymborska captures the depth of our search for teshuvah in the midst of losses of all kinds. It explores how our attempts to find joy and meaning in life might always be made poignant, as they are colored by the inescapability of difficulty and loss. We hope it provides some meaning and comfort for you as you honor your loved ones in this sacred moment.

Zikhronam livrakhah — may the memories of our loved ones be a blessing.

Rabbis Hillel Skolnik and Alex Braver

Under One Small Star

Wislawa Szymborska

My apologies to chance for calling it necessity.
My apologies to necessity if I'm mistaken, after all.
Please, don't be angry, happiness, that I take you as my due.
May my dead be patient with the way my memories fade.
My apologies to time for all the world I overlook each second.
My apologies to past loves for thinking that the latest is the first.
Forgive me, distant wars, for bringing flowers home.
Forgive me, open wounds, for pricking my finger.
I apologize for my record of minuets to those who cry from the depths.
I apologize to those who wait in railway stations for being asleep today at five a.m.

Pardon me, hounded hope, for laughing from time to time.
Pardon me, deserts, that I don't rush to you bearing a spoonful of water.
And you, falcon, unchanging year after year, always in the same cage,
your gaze always fixed on the same point in space,
forgive me, even if it turns out you were stuffed.
My apologies to the felled tree for the table's four legs.
My apologies to great questions for small answers.
Truth, please don't pay me much attention.
Dignity, please be magnanimous.
Bear with me, O mystery of existence, as I pluck the occasional thread from your train.

Soul, don't take offense that I've only got you now and then.
My apologies to everything that I can't be everywhere at once.
My apologies to everyone that I can't be each woman and each man.
I know I won't be justified as long as I live,
since I myself stand in my own way.
Don't bear me ill will, speech, that I borrow weighty words,
then labor heavily so that they may seem light.

*Dedicated in memory
of all our loved ones who have gone to their eternal rest*

Psalm 23

מְזִמּוֹר לְדָוִד יי רְעִי לֹא אֶחְסָר. בְּנְאוֹת דָּשָׁא יִרְבִּיצְנִי, עַל מִי
מִנְחוֹת יִנְהַלְנִי. נַפְשִׁי יִשׁוּבֵב יִנְחֵנִי בְּמַעְגְלֵי צֶדֶק לְמַעַן שְׁמוֹ. גַּם כִּי
אֶלֶף בְּגִיָּא צִלְמֹת לֹא אֵירָא רַע כִּי אַתָּה עִמָּדִי שְׁבִטְךָ וּמִשְׁעֲנֵתְךָ
הִקְמָה יִנְחֵמְנִי. תַעֲרַךְ לִפְנֵי שְׁלֹחַן נֹגֵד צֶרְרִי דִשְׁנֵת בְּשִׁמְן רֹאשִׁי
כּוֹסֵי רִוְיָה. אֶךְ טוֹב וְחֹסֵד יִרְדְּפוּנִי כָּל יְמֵי חַיִּי וְשִׁבְתִּי בְּבַיִת יי
לְאַרְךָ יָמִים

A Psalm of David

Adonai is my shepherd; I shall not want.
God gives me repose in green meadows,
And guides me over calm waters.
God will revive my spirit
And direct me on the right path – for that is God's way.
Though I walk in the valley of the shadow of death,
I fear no harm, for You are at my side.
Your staff and Your rod comfort me.
You prepare a banquet for me in the presence of my foes;
You anoint my head with oil, my cup overflows.
Surely goodness and kindness shall be my portion
All the days of my life.
And I shall dwell in the house of Adonai forever.
